

इसंख्यकृति

“Applications of Statistics”

(National Level Competition for B.Sc. Statistics Students)

Vishwakarma University's Department of Statistics, under the Faculty of Science and Technology successfully organized SANKHYAKRITI, a National level competition for B.Sc. Statistics students on 31 January 2020. The event comprising of various competitions received an enthusiastic response from more than 162 participants from across the country. A total of 29 teams participated in the project competition for the third year, 17 teams came up with innovative ideas in the poster competition for the second year and 21 teams fought it out for the first year quiz competition. Praising the meticulously planned event, the Chief Guest for the program Mr. Alok Kumar (Joint Director, Ministry of Statistics and Programme Implementation, National Statistical Office (Field Operations Division, Regional Office, Pune) and the Guest of Honor Dr. Pulak Guhathakurta (Scientist-F, India Meteorological Department, Pune). An expert session was conducted towards the end of the event by industry stalwart Ms. Preeti Pandhu, Founder and Director of Data Science Lab. SIES College, Science and Commerce, Nerul, Mumbai bagged the first place in the Project Competition, K.J Somaiya College, Mumbai was judged the best in the Poster Competition and Modern College, Pune stood first in the Quiz Competition.

